- In what ways can natural gas contribute to the goals for energy access, affordability and choice; how are infrastructure needs best addressed & what role do multilateral institutions play?
- What market, policy, or technological changes are required for natural gas to contribute effectively to the objective of reducing energy poverty and improving living standards?
- Will natural gas demand be driven by power, transportation, industrial or domestic uses? Role of small scale LNG in expanding the natural gas market?

Pre-Session Meeting

It is recommended that, time permitting, speakers meet briefly at the welcome reception or during registration to compare notes and brief the Chair regarding key messages, so that the Chair may introduce and frame the panel accordingly.

Each speaker is welcome to use a presentation (PowerPoint) if he/she wishes. An electronic copy of the presentation should be sent by 4 December 2016 to IEF staff, Mr Christof Van Agt (christof.vanagt@ief.org) and cc. Ms Arianna Khan (arianna.khan@ief.org), so that it may be uploaded onto the conference venue system. Should you prefer to give a speech, please also send a copy to IEF staff so that it may be uploaded to the event website. Please note that in the absence of written confirmation to the contrary, all presentations and speeches will be uploaded to the event website following delivery.

Session 1 Timeline/Flow

9:30-9:35: Chair introduces the Speakers and frames the topic

The Chair will briefly introduce the speakers and moderator and will provide his/her insights on the session topic.

9:35-9:45: Scene Setter (Moderator)

The scene setter frames the topic considering the perspectives to be shared by speakers.

9:45-10:15: Speaker Presentations

Each speaker will present his/her views for 5 to 7 minutes. A countdown timer will offer warnings at 3 minutes and at 1 minute remaining.

10:15-10:45: Interactive Discussion

The Moderator highlights the main points, and then facilitates a discussion among speakers and participants.

10:45-10:50: Interactive Survey

As this is the first interactive survey of the Ministerial, the Master of Ceremonies, Ms Eithne Treanor will explain to participants how to place their votes, followed by two test questions and results.

Ms Treanor will briefly sum up the views presented in the session and conduct the interactive survey based on the questions provided. She will notify the participants they have 20 seconds to answer the question once the voting is open. She will close the voting and share the results with participants once available.

10:50-10:55: Key Takeaways and Conclusion

The Chair asks the moderator and each speaker to summarise in one sentence his/her key message or what he/she learned from the session. After all speakers have shared their conclusions, the Chair will add his final remarks and will thank all of the participants before closing the session.

Chatham House Rule

To ensure free discussion and dialogue, the Fifth IEF-IGU Ministerial Gas Forum will be held under the Chatham House Rule. There will be video and still photography coverage of the event, but audio-video material will not be used without permission. Each participant will be free to use the information received, but neither the identity nor the affiliation of the speaker(s), nor that of any other participant may be revealed.
